Boost cash flow and make the most of your current assets with eacsRevo.

eacsRevo is an offering from eacs that releases cash from hardware and other equipment.

Once a price is agreed the equipment transfers ownership of the assets to our partner Econocom. You will receive the agreed amount direct to your bank and can continue to use the equipment, paying back quarterly over a number of years

Using this new service provides immediate cash for your business and could help you more effectively measure the cost of buying, financing, maintaining and disposing of your assets.

"With eacsRevo we are able to release the cash tied up in an investment into our meeting rooms we did in 2019 as the equipment has not really been used during 2020. It gave us some much needed agility and has helped greatly"

CFO, Engineering Firm

At the end of the cashback agreement the assets will be collected, recycled and wiped by our finance provider and you will be able to refresh your estate via a new rental facility.

This service is ideal if you are one year into ownership of the equipment or are three or five years off a replacement of the equipment.

It enables you to:

- Release the capital trapped in your assets and deploy it towards investments with a better return rate
- Get an immediate cash inflow to improve your cash position at a critical time of year
